Wisconsin 4-H Foundation Seeks Youth to Star in Upcoming Video

Apply now for a chance to share your 4-H story

Madison, Wis. [March 27, 2013] – Forget reality shows like the Voice and American Idol. This summer Wisconsin youth can be a star simply by sharing their 4-H experience. The Wisconsin 4-H Foundation is looking for 4-H youth to share their experiences about 4-H and earn the chance to participate in an upcoming promotional video, featuring 4-H youth and alumni, to recruit other youth, volunteers and donors.

Interested members can apply without fear of a celebrity judge’s criticism by submitting short answers to the following questions:

- What skills and experiences have you gained from 4-H that are different from your school classroom education?
- How have you given back to your community through your 4-H involvement?
- What is the biggest lesson you have learned through your 4-H project work?
- How do you see 4-H playing a role in fostering the future of Wisconsin leaders?

Answers can be submitted via email to info@Wis4HFoundation.org or via mail by 702 Langdon St, Madison WI 53706-1420 by April 15.

Participants selected will be interviewed at their home, farm or school for the video later this spring. The video will be revealed at the 4-H Foundation’s donor reception held in conjunction with the Wisconsin 4-H State Leaders Conference in June. It also will be shown at various other events including the Governor’s Blue Ribbon Meat Products Auction, golf outings, and visits with potential donors.

“This video is an excellent opportunity to showcase Wisconsin’s vibrant 4-H program and its members,” says Valerie Johnson, president of the Wisconsin 4-H Foundation. “We look forward to hearing from 4-H youth about the skills and experiences they have learned through 4-H.”
